Two Legislative Plums Handed to President

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — From the sometimes fractious House of Representatives, President Johnson had two legislative plums today.

They were: The big and controversial wheat-cotton subsidy bill; a top priority election year measure on his desk and ready for his final signature.

House approval of the food stamp program, a key part of his declared "war on poverty." This goes to the Senate, where it must await action in the dim future after the civil rights bill is disposed of.

The House acted on both measures after a hot, bothered and bewildering session that began at 11 a.m. Wednesday and didn't end until 12:44 a.m. today.

The food stamp plan passed handily by a 229-189 margin in spite of a long campaign of delaying action by Republican opponents. It got the support of 216 Democrats and 13 Republicans, while 163 Republicans and 26 Democrats were opposed.

But the wheat-cotton bill was a cliffhanger, approved 211 to 203. A switch of five votes would have changed the outcome. That vote came well after midnight under a procedure that limited debate to one hour and banned any amendments.

A tense hush came over the chamber as the last stragglers were being recorded in the "well" of the House, a circular area in front of the speaker's chair. Suddenly, Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana demanded that the well of the House be cleared, a rule Continued on Page Two

Freeman for Quick Action on Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman is expected to lose little time in putting new wheat and cotton programs into effect.

The secretary will act immediately because of the lateness of the season for both crops.

In the case of cotton he would have to set a domestic production allotment which would require growers to reduce their acreage allotments in order to become eligible for price support premium payments that would be authorized.

Freeman also would have to set up details for making payments to domestic mills to enable them to buy raw cotton as cheaply as foreign buyers who get the benefit of export subsidies.

Furthermore, he would need to explain conditions under which growers who already have planted wheat and cotton could make themselves eligible for financial benefits of the two programs. Doubtless some winter wheat and early-planted cotton would have to be plowed under.

In addition, the secretary would have to spell out the mechanics under which the grain and milling industry could shift, without incurring undue losses, from a relatively high market price for wheat to a much lower one. Returns of cooperating wheat growers would be supplemented by income derived from processing and export taxes on wheat.

In addition, price support rates for cotton, soybeans and cottonseed remain to be announced. The cotton support would be 30 cents a pound if the legislation is approved compared with 32.47 cents for the 1963 crop.

Freeman had delayed setting the soybean support—which was $2.25 a bushel for last year's crop — because of the possible impact of the cotton program on plantings. Under the cotton plan more land in the south doubtless would be planted to soybeans.

Free Poll Tax Receipts to Be Issued But They May Not Be Good in State Elections

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Tax collectors in Arkansas' 75 counties will begin Saturday issuing free poll tax receipts under Act 19 of 1964.

Recipients thereof will not know for some time, however, whether the certificate will entitle them to vote in all elections this summer or only for federal offices.

Constitutionality of Act 19 has been questioned and the Arkansas Supreme Court is now studying the law. It may return a decision as early as Monday but it may be several weeks before the picture is clearly defined.

Pulaski Chancellor Guy Williams held Act 19 unconstitutional insofar as it would permit persons obtaining free poll tax receipts to vote for any state, county or local official.

If his ruling is upheld, those who obtain free tax receipts during the April 11-30 registration period will be able to vote only for congressmen in the primary elections July 28 and Aug. 11.

Another free registration period scheduled Sept. 11-30 will qualify voters for the November general election.

Persons who have paid the poll tax have nothing to worry about. They are automatically qualified in any event. Those who paid the 1963 tax before the deadline last Oct. 1 can vote through Oct. 1 this year.

If they have paid the 1964 tax by then they will be qualified to vote in the general election.

High Pressure Brings Cold Air

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An intensive high pressure area over the state has cut off moisture but threatens to drop overnight low temperatures to below freezing for the second day in a row Friday.

Forst is expected to accompany the low temperatures again.

Fort Smith got a new record low today, 28, two degrees below the old mark set in 1914. Elsewhere low readings ranged from 23 at Gilbert, coldest spot in the state, to 39 at Pine Bluff.

High readings Wednesday were in the 50s and 60s.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted a slight warming trend today, with maximum temperatures of 55 to 65, but a drop to lows of 34 to 44 Friday morning with scattered frost.

Rain is not expected until Sunday or Monday.

When to Stay Awake, When to Go to Sleep Is a Very Big Problem of Human Living

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

When to stay awake, when to go asleep—that is one of the biggest problems of human living.

I, for one, have been unable to solve it to my complete satisfaction. Most of the people I know complain of the same disability.

The mark of eternal childhood is the unwillingness to go to bed at night and the reluctance to get up in the morning—the stubborn wish to hold on to today, the best we know, and the reluctance to face tomorrow, the most we have to fear.

To a child sleep is a form of death, one he fights with all the violence of his being, the violence of his awareness, as far as he can. He yields to sleep only as a warrior pauses from struggle when he is completely exhausted by endeavor and can march no farther.

The child unconsciously says of any day: "This is the only forever I know. I must not let it go."

The grownup says: "Oh, to the devil with this day—I've had enough of it. I'll rest now, and try again tomorrow."

Can you remember as a child how you lay awake in the dark and watched the reflected lights of cars passing by on the streets make strange hohogoblin patterns on the wallpaper of your bedroom? What worlds of newness of imagination they illuminated!

Have you ever watched an infant asleep—how it lies upon its back widespread, fists clenched

Meningitis Is Cause of Death

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Health Department said today the recent death of a 4-month-old child in Pulaski County was due to meningitis.

The department said the death raised to eight the number of Arkansasans who contracted the disease this year. There were four during a like period in 1963.

UN Deplores Rain on Yemen

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U.N. diplomats generally expected the Security Council would adopt a resolution today deploring Britain's March 28 air raid on Yemen in which Yemen claims 25 persons were killed.

The diplomats expressed belief that nine of the 11 council members would vote for it and that Britain, rather than cast a veto, would abstain along with France or the United States.

The council is scheduled to meet this afternoon to act on the resolution and wind up a six-day debate on Yemen's complaint against the British attack.

Rehearsals Nightly for Minstrel

Members of the Kiwanis Club are rehearsing nightly in preparation for the best Minstrel in years, according to Co-chairman Al Graves and Mitch LaGrone.

The production, which is the annual fund raising project for the club, will be at 8 p.m. April 17 in the City Hall Auditorium. The club will travel to Blevins April 18 for the premier showing.

Tickets are being sold by Kiwanians and local merchants have purchased advertisements for the program.

Six specialty numbers have been arranged and the cirrle, composed of Kiwanians who are not end-men, has been working on several songs.

One of the specialty acts will be a skit by the Key Club, the high school organization for boys sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. Other Key Club members will sell refreshments and tickets.

Proceeds from the Minstrel will be used to help finance the various youth projects sponsored by Kiwanis, according to Eddie Whitman, president.

Most Railroads Embargo Freight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most U.S. railroads have embargoed all freight effective at 12:10 a.m. Friday, the Association of American railroads said today.

The embargo because of the threatened nationwide railroad strike serves notice that the railroads will not accept freight for loading, transporting, interchange or reconsignment.

The association said that most railroads will not schedule passenger trains that would be unable to reach their destination by the 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

It said that in the case of trains already en route, efforts will be made to move them to points from which travelers may obtain alternative transportation.

Old Time Days Include Circus Parade

Old time value days are coming back to Hope. The Retail Merchants Promotion Association of the Hope Chamber of Commerce has designated April 16, 17, and 18 as old time value days and will offer special values those days. Events held in conjunction with this event will include an exhibit of old photographs at an old fashioned art gallery. The former Roy Anderson Insurance office will probably be the location for this exhibit. Local citizens are urged to loan old photographs of local people, places, and events for this three day period. Take them to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Parade time has been changed from 5:00 as reported earlier, to 2:00 p.m., Saturday, April 18.

There will be several worth while attractions such as an old fashioned circus parade, old horse drawn surreys and buggies, old cars, all carrying old fashioned costumed people and several other attractions.

The old fashioned circus parade will be presented by the Carson & Barnes Circus who is presently wintering here in Hope. Be sure to come out and see a preview of their season opener. Their first performance will be Thursday, April 20th and is sponsored by the local Shrine Club. Proceeds will go to the crippled children.

Prizes will be given to the following:

$10.00 to oldest car, $10.00 to most unique mode of transportation. (This could be a car, horse & buggy, bicycle, or any other type of transportation.) Everyone is urged to enter their old car or buggy or any other mode of transportation and register their name at the Hope Chamber of Commerce office.

$10.00 prize will be given to the best old fashioned costumed adult and $5.00 to the best old fashioned costumed child. (12 or under)

Another thing of interest will be a hot dog and saffarilla stand that will sell 5c drinks and hot dogs. All persons working in Hope are urged to wear old fashioned costumes for a three day period, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 16, 17, and 18. This includes employees of doctors offices, beauty shops, restaurants, banks, telephone office, gas office and all other offices as well as retail establishments.

It promises to be a fun-filled 3 days . . . April 16, 17, and 18 . . . old time vaue days in Hope.

Jury Finds Pal of Hoffa Guilty

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Henry F. Bell, vice president of the 100,000-member International Longshoremen's Association, was found guilty Wednesday night of trying to buy two jurors' votes in a trial of James R. Hoffa on a conspiracy charge.

Bell was the sixth person convicted of tampering with the jury in the 1962 trial of Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union. Hoffa himself was sentenced to eight years on the charge.

Bell was acquitted of one count in a three-count indictment and U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Gray Jr. dismissed another count for lack of proof. Bell faces a maximum sentence of five years imprisonment and $5,000 fine. Sentencing was set for April 27.

The 54-year-old New Yorker is free under a $20,000 bond. His attorneys said they will appeal.

Former Hope Man Tells of Alaskan Earthquake

ARCH M. ELLINGTON

Although hundreds of miles south of the center of this spring's Alaskan earthquakes at Anchorage a former Hope man saw much damage where he lived in the capital city of Juneau. He is Arch Moore Ellington, 32, now in Hope on vacation visiting his mother, Mrs. J. Mandel Hamm, 116 W. Ave. C.

Mr. Ellington for the last nine years has been a pharmacist for a Juneau drugstore. The principal damage to Juneau was caused by the earthquake's aftermath — a tidal wave — he reported.

There was great damage in Juneau's small boat harbor, he said. With the first shock of the earthquake the sea-water receded, leaving the harbor virtually dry — then the water returned as a tidal wave three times higher than the normal sea level. Mr. Ellington said there was heavy damage to boats and docks, and only the fact that the docks are of the floating type kept them from being destroyed.

The Hope man said there was also tidal-wave damage inland. Bay areas had been filled in to create built-up areas for housing and trailer camps, and these being at practically sea level the tidal wave engulfed them.

Ellington said the 'quake damage was discouraging to Alaska, already burdened with the expense of running a full-fledged state government on a pinched business structure — but he declared he would return to the northern state nevertheless.

The main business around Juneau, Ellington said, consists of shipping, lumbering, commercial fishing and canneries—and serving as a wholesale supply center serving the "back country," which quickly runs into towering mountains.

Disaster is not infrequent in the Northland, particularly on the coast, he continued. About four years ago there was a little-publicized earthquake which produced a tidal wave at Lituya Bay, west of Juneau, that was 1,000 feet high. Height of the wave was determined by the highest elevation at which timber on a mountain was destroyed. But because there were practically no inhabitants in the Lituya Bay region the disaster went almost unreported at the time.

Ellington said Juneau is an attractive and interesting place in which to live because its climate contradicts the popular notion of what the weather is like in Alaska generally. Being at the extreme south of the 49th state its climate is relatively mild.

Ellington said in his nine years' residence at Juneau he had never seen weather as cold as zero in the city proper — although 30 miles inland 30 degrees below zero had been recorded.

He said there is usually rain in the summer, with a record high of 60 degrees during his Graveside services were held Tuesday in Huntsville, Alabama for Grover A. Cook, 76. Mr. Cook had been a resident of Hope for the past four years and was a member of the Baptist Church. He is survived by one brother, C. S. Cook of Hope and two nieces and two nephews. Local arrangements were handled by Oakcrest Funeral Home.

Space Parasail Partial Success

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Officials of the Manned Spacecraft Center have termed a test of the parasail for spacecraft landings only a "partial success."

Some of the shroud lines of the parasail snapped Wednesday at the test in Trinity Bay. Test engineers had to trigger a reverse parachute to bring the boilerplate model of the two-man Gemini craft down without damage.

The parasail is a parachute which can be steered literally through slits in the chute and special lines. Researchers hope to learn if it can be used to bring spacecraft to safe landings on solid ground rather than water.

No Progress in Move to Avert Railway Strike

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz pressed emergency negotiating sessions today in an effort to head off a nationwide rail strike at midnight.

After a night session running into the early morning hours, Wirtz met with union representatives again at 10 a.m. Railroad negotiators were scheduled to join the session later.

The labor secretary indicated that he planned to keep negotiations going right on through to the strike deadline if no agreement was reached.

He had reported no progress when the night session ended at 3:15 a.m.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, absent from Wednesday's sessions, came to the 10 a.m. meeting.

Gilbert declined comment on the prospects of averting a strike. "I just got here," was his answer to questions from newsmen.

Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, was expected this afternoon.

Five unions and nearly 200 railroads are involved in the dispute.

As the all-night sessions ended, Wirtz indicated that President Johnson was gravely worried about the prospect that a rail strike might seriously damage the nation's economy.

"The ability or failure to reach agreement will determine whether there is or is not a major disruption in the nation's present encouraging economic advance," Wirtz said.

Wirtz earlier had announced he would hold the union and management negotiators in continuous sessions but a snag developed when two union prelates were unable to arrive Continued on Page Two

Reaction to Stamp Bill Is Mixed

By J. C. TILLMAN

Associated Press Writer

Arkansas farm interests greeted the administration's new wheat-cotton and food stamp bill with mixed reaction today.

Those who were against it remained opposed to the bill, but said they would do their best to live with it.

And most took a "wait and see" attitude, to find out what action Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman will take and how quick he will move.

The bill gives farmers an option of planting their basic allotment or a domestic allotment of about two-thirds less, for which he would get a 15 per cent bonus subsidy.

Farmers with less than 15 acres allotment can get the bonus without taking any reduction in planting. About 25,000 of 40,000 farmers in Arkansas head allotments under 15 acres in 1963, compared to 72 per cent for the nation.

Farmers also need to know what support levels Freeman will set before making their move.

Little cotton planting has been done in the state thus far — it usually starts around April 15. Some farmers would have planted last weekend, had it not been raining.

An Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation spokesman commented, "Every farmer will have to put the pencil to his own operation and decide what's best for him to do."

He added, "It will be an awful temptation not to take the bonus."

Some farmers have expressed fears that the bill, passed by a 211-203 vote by the House early today, will affect another major Arkansas crop, soybeans.

Soybeans are already beginning to feel the effects of surplus, with some processing plants closing down because of the narrow margin of profits they make.

Farmers in some quarters fear that land diverted from cotton will be planted to soybeans, further increasing chances for surpluses. A state soybean association is being formed in Arkansas now to prevent this and to educate producers about the crop.

Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts replied mildly that the Democrats should get a turn after a group of Republicans had recorded their votes. He told the remaining Democrats to step back a pace and continue.

A torrent of boos came from Republicans, a measure of the feeling that had built up during the long session. Veteran observers in the press gallery could not recall a similar occurrence.

Republicans charged that big city Northern Democrats had entered into an "unholy alliance" with Southern conservatives, trading their support for the food stamp bill in return for support of the cotton-wheat bill.

The food stamp program expands and makes permanent a pilot operation. Under it, needy families would buy food stamps with the portion of their income they would normally spend for food.

The stamps would be redeemable at the grocery for more than the cash paid in, and would buy just about any food item. The idea is to increase the variety and food value for poverty-stricken families, some of which are now getting a direct dose here in time for the hastily called conference.

The recess came at 3:15 a.m. after about seven hours of talks. Wirtz said that when the discussions got down to the specific points in dispute, the absence of the two union chiefs became important.

"It is a complication that I had not fully anticipated," the secretary said.

The two absent union presidents, Charles Luna of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and H. E. Gilbert of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen are expected to arrive in time for today's session.

Facing the government—and the railroad-riding public—was a 12:01 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Friday strike deadline.

Chicken Is Good Bet at the Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring lambs, spring chickens and spring onions are heralding the season at the nation's supermarkets this weekend.

One national chain offers fryers at 25 cents a pound in its last year by the courts and Congress.

The unions tried to bypass the stalled national negotiations by seeking talks with individual railroads, but this was balked as the industry maintained a united front.

Each side blamed the other for stirring up the new crisis.

Wolfe labeled the Illinois Central strike as "continued irresponsibility" on the part of the unions.

Spokesmen for five operating unions replied that if there is a coast-to-coast strike it will be the fault of the railroads for imposing the rules changes on a nationwide basis.

The railroads maintain that obsolete work rules are costing them millions of dollars a year unnecessarily. The unions say wage structure changes proposed by the industry would amount to pay cuts of 30 per cent or more for many union members.

New York area outlets. Several other areas offer them prominently, with baking hens and turkeys also getting a push.

Lamb prices are off about 2 cents a pound on the West Coast and lamb chops and roasts are features in the Midwest and northeast.

Green onions, fresh spinach and big supplies of fresh asparagus are leading seasonal attractions at produce counters.

Egg prices continue to reflect the calendar. This is normally the best time of year for eggs, especially the large sizes, because of heavy spring laying. One chain has marked down its grade A large eggs by 3 cents a dozen to 47 cents.

Red meat attractions are abundant. Beef continues to be offered at bargain prices compared with a year ago.

The beef cuts most prominent this weekend include chuck roasts, beef ribs, sirloin and ground meat.

Pork cuts are widely featured, with ham prices off a couple cents at wholesale in many areas. Other items on "special" many places include chops, bacon, loin roasts and Boston butts.

Strawberries from Texas and Louisiana are flowing to market and seasonal rises in supply have also been noted for rhubarb and lemons. Other fruit features include apples, grapefruit and oranges.

TOKYO (AP) — French Premier Georges Pompidou said today a military victory for U.S.-backed forces in the war in South Viet Nam "would not solve anything."

"I don't want to seem to be a prophet of doom to our U.S. allies, but we have kept the memory of the bitter experiences in Indochina and Algerian wars. We are convinced that such a war, even if victorious, does not solve anything, and the solution can only be political," he told a news conference.

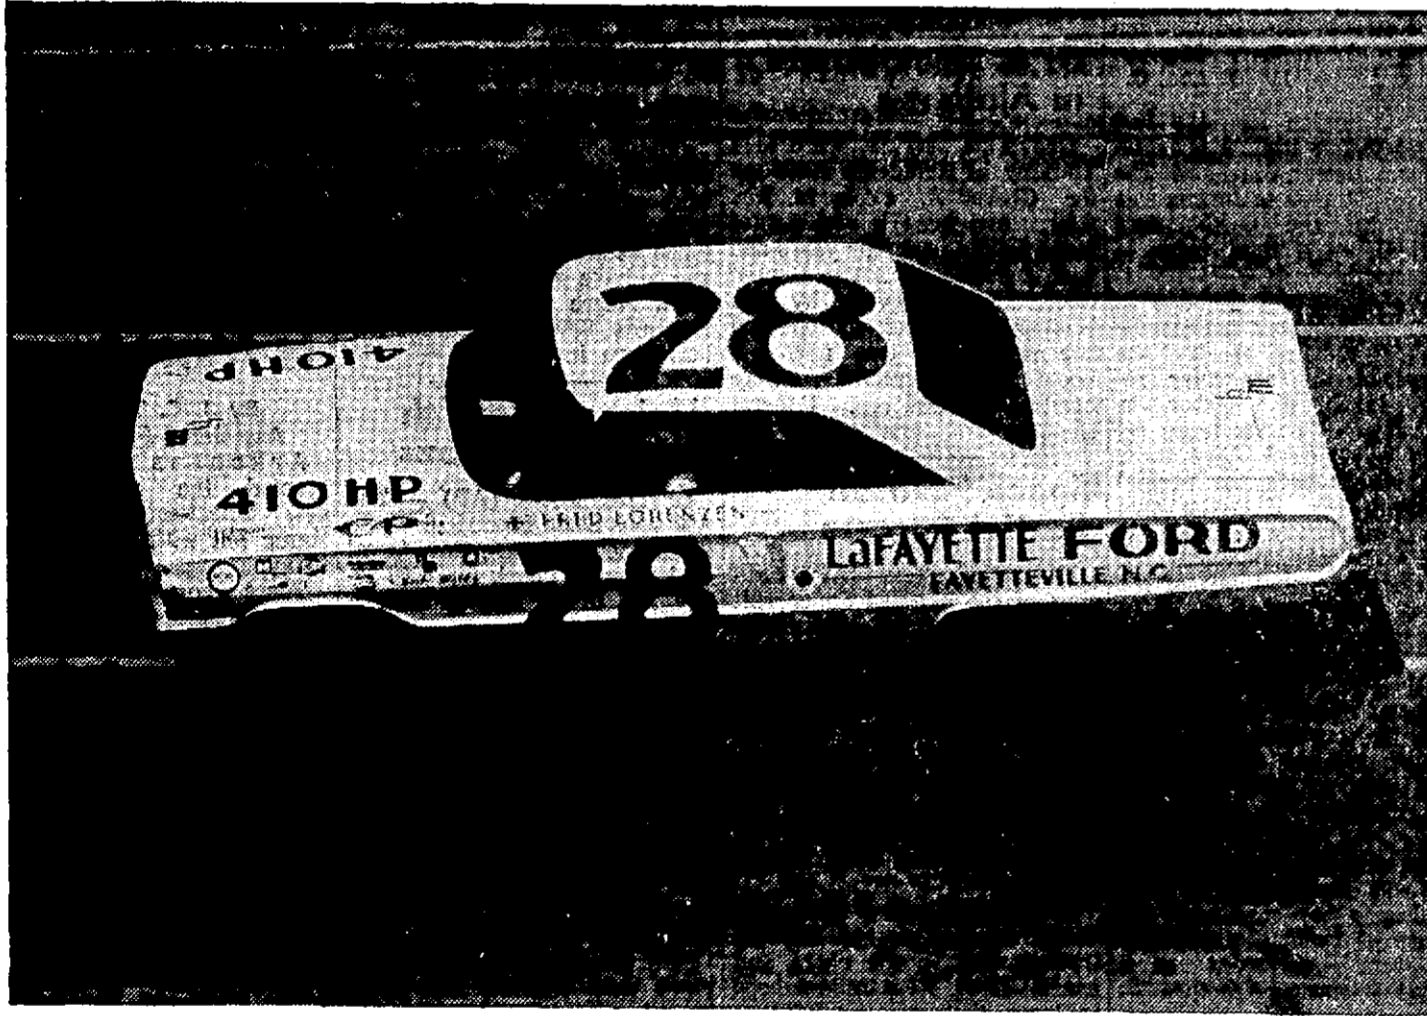

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) —

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that surrender of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu to the Chinese Communists could be the straw that would break the camel's back of resistance to communism in South Viet Nam.

Nixon, ending a two-day visit to Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek, said "the free world cannot afford to surrender another inch of territory, particularly in Asia."

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) —

Communist sources report that Romania has informed the Soviet Union and Red China they were willing to try again to mediate a truce in the ideological dispute between Moscow and Peking.

For the 3rd time in three years, Fred Lorenzen takes the grueling Atlanta "500" at the wheel of his Ford.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

Latest win gives Ford
11 out of last 12
NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed... and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thrifter in the long run. They're built for total performance.

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

when you call Grandmother

...YOU DON'T EXPECT TO REACH TIMBUKTU

Naturally, when you call Grandmother's phone, that's the one you expect to get, and you do. But that's not as easy as it sounds.

Your call must work its way through all sorts of interconnections, wires, cables, switches and so forth until, finally, it picks the right phone out of some 83 million in the U.S.

Yet, out of all the possible chances for mistakes, your call goes where you sent it... in town or out-of-town, to Grandmother, wherever she is. This sort of reliability is the result of service improvements that keep increasing the convenience and personal value of your telephone.

GIRL IS BRIGHT, EAGER

BUT COLLEGE SHAKES HER

By Dr. JOYCE BROTHERS

A mother whose daughter is in her first year of college writes: "She looked forward to it greatly. Now she doesn't seem to be happy. She was exceptionally bright in high school, and we feel she deserves the chance I never had to go to college. She seems to have the blues. She says she can't concentrate as she did last year, and feels inferior. I wonder if we should suggest she leave college for some occupation that will make her happier? Her happiness is what we want."

Your daughter appears to be going through the reactions of many first-year college students. The change is upsetting them and their reactions often upset their parents. Many have invested their savings in a son's or daughter's education.

Any normal person has difficulty adjusting to a completely new way of life. And for a youngster recently out of high school, making the first break from family ties, this time can be a period of anxiety.

Now consider what the college freshmen is up against. She faces many new and strange ways of life. For the first time she's called on to make dozens of small decisions by herself. Only a few are about eating, getting up, studying, and going to bed.

In her past life, all these were a matter of family routine. Now, she must set her own routine, and she's not sure she's right. This is the source of beginning doubt and anxiety.

In high school, your daughter was looked up to. She found security in congenial friends. Her first college relationships are impersonal. She's confronted with new people, new surroundings, new standards. All this can bring on just the feelings your letter describes—depression, inability to concentrate.

Even well-adjusted adults often go through this when changing jobs and environment. Emotional maladjustments during the first year of college strike hardest those who've had any one of these three problems: worries over financial security, over some physical defect, or a poor ability to make new friends.

If you have stressed your financial sacrifice, it could be having a negative effect on your daughter. If you've done this, try to correct the impression you've given her that education represents a struggle for you.

Of course it may, but paint a brighter picture of things. She'll adjust to freshman life better without this feeling of guilt. And she'll get more out of her education.

Adjustment to first-year college is especially hard for those who didn't want to go in the first place. This may not be make the adjustments necessary. Give your daughter your encouragement and support. Anticipate her enjoying college. Chances are she will as soon as her newness wears off. If she continues to feel down and depressed, suggest that she see her school advisor.

It is the average freshmen, neither a brain nor a dummy, who makes the best adjustment. Those with very high or low intelligence conform less easily. The very bright are sometimes impatient, critical of their new environment. The dull just can't enter couples financial formulas. But one of the soundest estimates this way: First, the husband should have a steady job, and the couple saved enough for wedding and honeymoon expenses. Second, the couple should plan to start marriage with a savings account of at least 15 per cent of the husband's yearly salary. A savings account becomes all-important for a husband or wife's unexpected sickness, a new need for furniture they hadn't visualized and, a possible pregnancy. And here's an important note

A NOTE TO ENGAGED COUPLES

Many couples are planning to take the big step this spring, but the question isn't the minor cost of getting married, but the major question of staying married. Economists have been of-from a psychologist's experience: After the rent and necessities are paid for, most financial differences don't stem from the amount of the new family's income. Strangely enough they come from "how it's spent." That's why a budget, planned in advance before marriage, can play a big and lasting part in domestic harmony. It's an excellent form of happiness insurance. Tomorrow: Son seems to take after wayward father. Dorothy Dix is a registered trademark. A Bell-McClure Syn. Feature

Life in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Writer

Thirty nine pupils at Lake City High School near Jonesboro will don caps and gowns and receive diplomas next month for having completed 12 years of education.

This is not unusual, and will be repeated often over the state. But what is out of the ordinary about the Lake City group is the fact that 25 of the pupils enrolled together in the Lake City elementary school 12 years ago and have stayed together ever since.

The class valedictorian and salutatorian are among the original 25. Lake City Supt. W. O. Doak says, "Most unusual. Usually in a class of this size, only a few who start together in the first grade will go on and finish in the same group."

The Krabblins of Forrest City have plenty of wild turkey on hand.

Dick Krabblin downed a 19-pound, four ounce bird last week and J. B. Krabblin killed a 15-pound gobbler on the same hunt.

At the Engleberg community in Randolph County, Floyd Umfleet practices an art some 5,000 years old — the making of wooden baskets.

Umfleet started making baskets when he was 10, and the skill came in handy when his B-24 was shot down over Yugoslavia during World War II.

His German captors allowed him to have a knife and hatchet to make baskets and he used the finished product to trade for meat, tobacco and wine.

And this tale is told of a skeptical lady in the tornado territory of north Arkansas.

There was an elderly lady had a very nice storm cellar built to her specifications. At the slightest hint of a tornado, in

St. Louis and Frisco Tied in Pro Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. LOUIS (AP) — San Francisco evened its National Basketball Association playoff with St. Louis in a "dog-eat-dog" battle Wednesday night, and taking the biggest bite out of the Hawks was Nate Thurmond.

"Thurmond did it all — defense, offense, rebounds," said Warriors Coach Alex Hannum after his club had whipped the Hawks 111-109.

The victory tied the Western Division best-of-seven final playoffs at two games each and returned the home-court advantage to the Warriors.

The next game will be played in San Francisco Friday night with the teams returning to St. Louis Sunday. The final contest, if needed, will be played on the West Coast.

Boston can wrap up the Eastern Division playoff tonight when the Celtics and Cincinnati meet in Boston. The Celtics lead their series, 3-1.

Thurmond didn't start the game, but when Wayne High-tower's ankle began to trouble him, the 6-foot-11 inch reserve entered and scored 17 points and pulled in 15 rebounds in 42 minutes.

Thurmond teamed with Wilt Chamberlain, who notched 36 points and gathered 23 rebounds to push the Warriors to a 109-100 lead with 2:52 remaining.

St. Louis made a final rush on points by Bob Pettit and Zelmo Beaty, closing to 110-109, but close-in shots in the final seconds by Cliff Hagan and Richie Guerin went astray.

Pettit paced the Hawks with 23 points.

Group Favors Yankees and Dodgers Again

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers will again win the National League pennant after a tight three-way struggle with San Francisco and St. Louis while the New York Yankees run still another American League pennant up the flag pole with considerable ease.

That's the script authored for the 1964 season by the 294 sports writers and broadcasters voting in The Associated Press' annual pre-season baseball poll.

The voting indicates the Dodgers will nip the Giants and Cardinals, becoming the first National League champion to repeat since Milwaukee in 1957-58. At the same time, the Yankees will be emphasizing their supremacy over Minnesota and Chicago en route to their fifth consecutive American League pennant.

The mixed opinions about the pennant chances of the Dodgers, Giants and Cardinals were reflected in a tight vote that left only 300 points separating the teams after they drew some 7,500 in the balloting on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

The Dodgers edged the Giants for the top spot by only one first place vote and a mere 62 points.

The Dodgers were named the top team on 102 ballots and drew 2,634 points. The Giants received 101 first-place votes and 2,572 points.

The Cardinals, without Stan Musial for the first time in 22 years, nevertheless received solid support with 52 first-place votes and 2,318 points.

In the American League, the Yankees re-emphasized the respect they command. The Yankees rolled up 205 first-place votes and 2,826 points.

That was some 400 points more than Minnesota's homer-hitting Twins, who grabbed 39 votes for the top spot and 2,375 points. The Chicago White Sox finished third with 28 first-place ballots and 2,276 points.

The predicted final standings:

American League
New York	1
Minnesota	2
Chicago	3
Detroit	4
Baltimore	5
Cleveland	6
Boston	7
Los Angeles	8
Kansas City	9
Washington	10
National League
Los Angeles	1
San Francisco	2
St. Louis	3
Milwaukee	4
Cincinnati	5

Atlanta May Get Big League Team

ATLANTA (AP)—An unidentified major league baseball team has agreed on a long-term lease of a proposed new stadium in Atlanta, a city official announced.

Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta-Fulton County Recreation Authority, said Wednesday the lease would cover at least 15 years.

Montgomery said identity of the team would be withheld until the 1964 season ends. He added that the ball club had pressed for a 30-year lease.

Montgomery said that a year-round crash program would begin next week to get the stadium ready for the 1965 season. The authority hopes to entice professional football, too.

Finley Gets to Work on R-field Fence

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Just imagine green and gold clad ball players hitting orange baseballs over a pastel-colored fence, just a few yards from where the sheep are grazing.

No, that's not an idea for a float in the Rose Bowl parade. That's Charles Finley's way of playing baseball.

Finley already has draped green and gold uniforms over his players and his sheep—the uniforms for the sheep are somewhat differently cut—but he has been unable to persuade baseball's legislators that orange baseballs would improve the game.

Now the Kansas City owner is about to get to work on this month's project—a right field fence Finley has labeled his Pennant Porch.

Finley's plans call for building the porch at Kansas City's Municipal Stadium. The porch will not have rocking chairs—they would all be demolished by the homers the A's are going to ricochet around the sector once it is erected.

Finley emphasizes that he is building his porch to compete with the New York Yankees, who he feels have dominated the American League because of the short right field fence at Yankee Stadium, 296 feet down the line.

"Since we can't get the Yankees to conform to honest distances, I'll conform to Yankee distance," Finley is quoted as saying.

At home, the A's hit 52 homers in 81 games while at Yankee Stadium they hit nine in nine games. The Yankees, however, hit 10 against the A's.

Advantage, Yankees.

At Kansas City, in competition between the two teams, the A's hit five homers. The Yankees sent the sheep scurrying 15 times.

Advantage, Yankees.

On a team basis, then, it becomes evident that the Yankees will hit more homers than the A's no matter where they play. Some say the Yankees have better players.

Steady Rain Favors Former Title Holder

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Nearly 100 of golf's greatest players teed off today in the 28th Masters Tournament over the Augusta National course that days of steady rain have turned into a links built for two—defending champion Jack Nicklaus and three-time winner Arnold Palmer.

Nicklaus, the 24-year-old Ohio Golden Bear, who is the youngest winner ever, was a 4-1 choice to repeat—something no Masters winner ever has done. Golf's longest driver, Nicklaus has the length to handle the nearly 7,000 water-logged yards of the course that Bobby Jones designed.

Palmer, 34, winner in 1958, 1960 and 1962, is the only other player in the field of 96 who can hit the ball far enough to get it to the top of the hills that loom up in front of nearly one-half the holes.

The other pros have complained the course's roll is gone and it will take plenty of sunshine and wind to bring it back before the tournament ends Sunday.

Open champion Julius Boros, the 44-year-old smooth swinger, had the best practice round, a 66 on Tuesday.

Boros won the Greater Greensboro Open last Sunday. Nicklaus has won only one tournament all year, and Palmer none, but they still rank first and fourth on the money list.

Top prize at the Masters is usually $20,000. The payoff, based on gate receipts, runs in the $100,000 neighborhood.

Nicklaus also listed former Open champion Billy Casper, Tony Lema, who was the runner-up last year, and 1961 Mas-

Houston Colts in Tribute to Late Hurler

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Colts will wear black arm bands during the National League baseball season in memory of Jim Umbricht.

The big right-handed relief pitcher died Wednesday of cancer, 13 months after it was discovered. He was 33.

The Chicago native underwent surgery a month before the baseball season started last year and made a remarkable comeback with a 4-3 record.

During the second half of the 1963 season he was one of the National League's leading relief pitchers with a 2.61 earned run average for 76 innings while appearing in 35 games.

Russ Kemmerer, a former teammate now with Houston's Oklahoma City farm club, will give the eulogy at funeral services Friday afternoon. The body will be cremated.

Colt Manager Harry Craft, Coach Luman Harris, infielder Bob Lillis and pitcher Ken Johnson will fly to Houston from the Colts' Cocoa, Fla. spring training camp for the services.

Houston's scheduled exhibition game Friday with Milwaukee at Cocoa was canceled.

George Kirksey, Colt executive vice president, said Umbricht remained in good spirits until the end and said he was determined to get back into uniform.

Colt General Manager Paul Richards said Umbricht was "one of the finest competitors I've ever known on or off a baseball field."

Colt officials said the players will wear black arm bands on opening day and the remainder of the season.

Last year's operation involved what doctors called a rare but lethal "black mole" tumor, a form of cancer which starts with a black mole on an arm or leg.

The disease began to appear in the chest area last season but Umbricht and Colt officials kept the development a closely guarded secret.

The cancer continued to spread and Umbricht, who weighed 210 pounds and stood 6-4, entered the hospital again March 16.

Umbricht was honored at a Philadelphia dinner early this year as the most courageous athlete of 1963.

In accepting the award, he said "some of us don't have time to slow down and take stock of ourselves."

"But six weeks in a hospital bed gives you time to think... and come out a better human being. I'm sure everything will come out all right."

Group Applies for Football Franchise

CHICAGO (AP)—A syndicate of Chicago businessmen has applied for an American Football League franchise for Chicago.

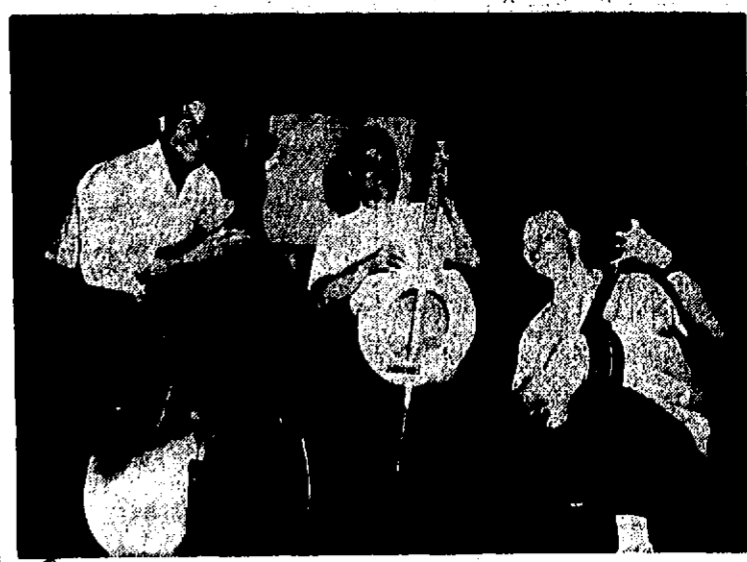

Bob Nussbaum, investment broker who heads the eight-man group, estimated the capitalization of the syndicate at about $3 million.

He said the application, mailed to AFL headquarters in New York, also included plans for remodeling Soldier Field for the games to provide a seating capacity of 59,800.

Nussbaum said he has started negotiations for a Canadian football team to move to Chicago to provide "the nucleus of a solid, going team rather than relying on an AFL pool."

Wants Free Fishing for the Old Folks

EL DORADO Ark. (AP) —

Union County Rep. Donald J. Brown said today he will sponsor an amendment to appear on the November general election ballot giving lifetime hunting and fishing licenses to all state residents over age 65.

Arkansas statutes now require purchase of licenses by all persons over age 16 for both hunting and fishing, unless the angling is done with worms and hand pole, or rod, from the bank.

The amendment would be effective Jan. 1, 1965, if adopted, and provide that any state resident 65 or older could obtain a lifetime, combined hunting and fishing license on payment of a $1 fee.

The licenses could be revoked "for valid reason."

Brown said in announcing the proposed amendment, "I feel it is a privilege for the people of Arkansas to have the opportunity to give our citizens 65 years of age and older a lifetime hunting and fishing license, not only because of their declining years, but in many cases because of their declining incomes."

Hunting and fishing licenses are $2.50 each now.

Brown said, "There are few outdoor activities in which our senior citizens can actively participate, and hunting or fishing is one of the few that they may be able to enjoy at their leisure."

Fees collected for the lifetime licenses would be deposited in the game protection fund of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission.

3 Key Men Missing as Hogs Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks opened Spring football practice Wednesday with three key players noticeably absent from the squad.

One of the missing was wingback George Rae Walker who is recovering from a knee injury which could keep him out of action next season.

The others were back Ken Hatfield and quarterback Billy Gray who are seeing action on the Arkansas baseball team.

Fullback Charlie Daniel worked out in sweat clothes as a result of illness and was replaced by Bobby Nix, the only non-letterman on the main squad.

Coach Frank Broyles said only a few of the Porkers reported overweight and said this is an indication that their mental attitude is good.

The Porkers worked out on a new series of information plays inaugurated this year. They also worked on blocking and fumble recoveries.

The only change in the Porker lineup was a switch of Tommy Trantham from end to wingback.

Broyles said the Porkers would work out four days a week with scrimmages on Saturdays.

Canadians, Black Hawks Favored

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks are favored to advance to the Stanley Cup finals with victories on home ice tonight.

Both the Montreal-Toronto and the Chicago-Detroit series are tied 3-3. The finals in the National Hockey League competition will be in Chicago Sunday night if the Hawks eliminate Detroit. Otherwise, they will start Saturday night in either Montreal or Toronto.

The Canadiens, regular season titleholders, will be bolstered by the return of Jean Beliveau, their veteran center and captain. Big Jean hurt his knee in the fourth cup game and did not suit up for the next two.

Ralph Backstrom, a center, and Jacques Laperriere, a rookie defenseman, will play for Montreal despite minor injuries. Backstrom has a charley horse and Laperriere a sore wrist.

The spotlight in the Chicago-Detroit game will be on the goaltenders, for more than one reason. Both Terry Sawchuk of Detroit and Glenn Hall of Chicago have had their troubles.

Sawchuk missed one game and part of another because of a pinch nerve in his left shoulder while Hall complained of a stomach disorder and sat out the final period in Tuesday night's 7-2 setback.

Little About MacArthur at Birthplace

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—There are few reminders of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the old Army barracks where the great soldier was born.

But the three-story building, now a museum of natural history in MacArthur Park on the east side of Little Rock is one of Little Rock's largest tourist attractions.

MacArthur was born here in 1880, while his father, Capt. Arthur MacArthur, was commanding the 27-building federal arsenal at Little Rock. The arsenal was built in 1838 as a base for Indian fighting.

When MacArthur was 18 months old he and his parents left for another Army assignment. The general's next visit, 72 years later, attracted about 26,000 persons for his speech on March 24, 1952.

On his visit, he quipped with the museum curator, Mrs. Bernice Babcock, that he couldn't call the room in which he was born.

The room he was born in is furnished in furniture of the 1880s.

Ellis Herron, now director of the museum of natural history, said he has tried for years to get some of MacArthur's papers for the building. The only MacArthur documents he now has are a copy of the treaty with Japan ending World War II and a duplicate of a paper showing that MacArthur was inducted into the Masonic Lodge.

The rest of the old barracks building contains Indian artifacts, firearms, a history of early textile making and other items.

MacArthur had said he would try to find some papers for the museum. "I have always held Little Rock and the state of Arkansas in deep reverence," he said in 1963. "The preservation of the old barracks where I was born causes me the deepest sense of pleasure and appreciation."

"I will endeavor at some later date to find something . . . to contribute to the museum at Little Rock."

MacArthur said in 1960 that he would house his papers in a memorial at Norfolk, Va., where he grew up.

During an award ceremony last year in New York, MacArthur interrupted a review of his life to say, "You spoke of my birthplace (in Little Rock), I'm a Virginian."

The general went on to explain good-naturedly that it had been intended that he would be born in Norfolk, his mother's home, but his father was suddenly ordered to Little Rock.

"But the Norfolk papers were loyal," MacArthur said. "In the papers' headlines it said Douglas MacArthur was born while his parents were away."

Ike Senior General of the Army Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the death Sunday of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower became the senior general in the U.S. Army.

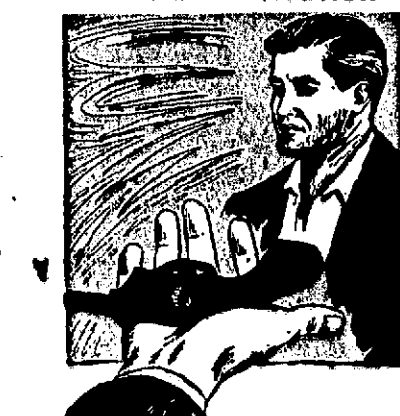

Eisenhower, who was restored to his five-star rank after he left the presidency, and General of the Army Omar Bradley are the only five-star generals in the Army.

Eisenhower's date of rank is Dec. 20, 1944; Bradley's is Sept. 20, 1950.

U.S. Payments Soon to Go Back in Red

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States came close to balancing its books with the rest of the world in the first three months of 1964 for the first time in seven years.

But the outlook for the rest of the year is that U.S. payments will soon slip back into the red. They should do better than last year's $3.3-billion deficit, but still be large enough to be troublesome.

There are several reasons why the first quarter's performance may be more of a fluke than the guarantee of an end to the nagging problem.

Still, the early reports that the first quarter saw the outflow of dollars offset by the return from abroad eases some of the pressure for higher interest rates. It encourages those seeking to increase U.S. exports further and it casts a different light on the efforts of U.S. representatives trying for tariff concessions from other nations.

The apparent balance also lifts quite a weight from the shoulder of U.S. monetary authorities who have been battling to reassure the rest of the world about the strength of the Yankee dollar, and to discourage others from turning in surplus dollars for our gold.

A balance of payments deficit occurs when U.S. spending, lending and aid gives foreigners more dollars than they return here for our exports, or as yields on our investments.

In the first three months of 1963 this deficit was $810 million before seasonal adjustment.

But the season plays a role in today's brighter picture. The deficit in the first quarter is usually smaller than in any other period of the year. U.S. exports often rise in the early months and so does the flow of income from U.S. investments abroad.

From the early reports—the final figures are due about the middle of May—this year has seen greater than usual gains in exports. And the returning flow of income on investments abroad has been augmented by a flow of foreign-held dollars in this market for investment here.

Bankers say much of this influx arises from fear of rising inflation in Europe — investors are seeking safer havens for their money.

The United States also has gained by the one-shot influx of dollars that the Soviet Union bought in Europe with its gold to pay for American grain shipments.

Also imports by U.S. firms eased in the first three months of this year.

Bankers doubt if any of these special conditions will last much longer. They feel that imports are bound to rise, particularly if the federal tax cut stimulates U.S. industrial activity and consumer spending as expected. The rate of gain in exports may not last. And there is the still to be answered question of whether a tax-cut stimulated economy here may lead to inflation later on. This would tend to encourage an outflow of investment money rather than the present inflow.

Pine Bluff Man Dies in Wreck

Kilgore owned nursing homes at Pine Bluff, Fordyce, Camden Osceola and Blytheville.

Drain pears and place, cut side up, in baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and sprinkle over pears. Bake 15 minutes at 425 degrees. Serve warm with Creamy Orange Topping or whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

For Creamy Orange Topping, blend 3 ounces cream cheese with 2 tablespoons orange juice and 1 teaspoon slivered orange peel. Beat until light and fluffy.

Instant Thirst Quencher

By Betty Barclay

WHEN the kids pile home from school, their first stop is usually the kitchen for "sumpin' to drink."

Wise mothers have taken to keeping a jar of instant tea on the shelf—no matter the season—so the youngsters can fix their own thirst-quenchers. All they need is a glass of cold tap water, a rounded spoonful of instant tea and ice cubes. Or if you want to make it by the pitcherful, allow about two table-spoons of instant tea to each quart of cold water. And, for flavoring and sweetening, make up this lemon syrup and keep on hand for instant use.

Lemon Sweetener

Combine 1 cup sugar and 1 cup water in a saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Add 1/4 cup lemon juice and 1 teaspoon lemon rind. Cook 5 minutes. Chill and strain. One tablespoon syrup will sweeten one tall glass of iced tea.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The first prospective Negro juror in Byron De La Beckwith racial murder trial exercised his prerogative of age today and was excused.

Judge McGee, 69, was called for jury service as the trial entered its second day with 11 jurors accepted by the state.

Under Mississippi law, persons over 65 years of age can claim an exemption from jury duty. McGee exercised the exemption.

Dorm Dedicated

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The newest and largest residence hall at the University of Arkansas, Henry S. Yocum Hall, will be dedicated Sunday. The building, opened in 1963, has 11 stories and houses 539 persons. It was named after an El Dorado native who served a record 20 years on the school's board of trustees.

Lawn Mower Safety—No. 2

Because safety precautions were not taken, objects tossed by rotary mowers injured thousands of people last year needlessly. Some were killed. Protect yourself and others by following these safety steps:

• Know your controls. Read the operating manual carefully. Learn how to stop the engine quickly in an emergency. Always stop the mower whenever you leave it—even for a moment.

• Make sure the lawn is clear of sticks, stones, wires and debris—they could be thrown by the blade.

• On slopes and wet grass always be extra careful of your footing—you could slip and be injured by your mower.

• NEVER check or work on a mower while the engine is running. Stop the engine and disconnect spark wire before doing so.

Prober Asks for Better Explanation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clark MacGregor says after talking with the pilot of the U.S. plane shot down over East Germany last month he is not satisfied with the Air Force explanation of how it happened.

The Minnesota Republican said he was particularly questioning whether a navigational error was really the cause for the twin-engine jet flight over Communist territory.

Asked in an interview Tuesday whether he was suggesting the crew was ordered to fly there, MacGregor replied, "I think the question ought to be asked."

The United States has denied a Soviet charge that the plane was spying on East German territory.

A press officer said the Pentagon had no comment on MacGregor's remarks.

MacGregor said he thinks the Air Force should clarify its statement there was an apparent "lack of complete crew coordination" in the aircraft.

"Is this an indirect way of saying there was a disagreement among the crew, that one wanted to take one course of action and another favored doing something else?" he said.

Record Income for Turkey Growers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reports that turkey growers received a record gross income of $37.5 million for their birds in 1963. This was 6 per cent more than in 1962.

This increase was made after growers had rejected a federal marketing order program designed to limit marketings and boost grower prices and returns. The income upturn largely reflected a voluntary reduction in production. The 1963 turkey crop was 93.4 million compared with the record crop of 108.1 million in 1961. The 1962 crop was 92.1 million.

Teachers in Detroit Set for a Strike

By GENE SCHROEDER

DETROIT (AP)—A three-way dispute involving Detroit's Board of Education and rival schoolteacher organizations is threatening to explode into picket lines and the mass firing of teachers.

At issue is the question of collective bargaining methods and rights for some 10,000 public school teachers.

The struggle pits the AFL-CIO Detroit Federation of Teachers against the Detroit Education Association, an affiliate of the National Education Association. It parallels similar disputes in other cities, including Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and New York.

In Milwaukee, a showdown vote in a collective bargaining election recently brought victory for the Teachers Education Association over the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers.

The 605-vote defeat for the federation was a blow to Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, who headed the AFL-CIO drive to unionize the teachers in the basic philosophical clash with the National Education Association.

Reuther contends the association—which considers itself a professional organization rather than a union—neglects the economic well-being of the teacher and concentrates on school administration problems.

National Education Association spokesmen, however, say their organization is interested in both but believes in taking what they call "sanctions" rather than strike action to gain improved standards for teachers. Sanctions can include refusal to sign annual contracts.

A Michigan law bans strikes by public employees and until recently it was interpreted as prohibiting the naming of any one bargaining agent for them.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley reaffirmed the strike ban in a new opinion issued last month but said the board could, in its discretion, deal with a single organization representing the teachers.

Under the law, known as the Hutchinson Act, any government employee who engages in a walkout "shall thereby abandon and terminate his appointment or employment and shall no longer hold such position."

The dismissed employee could be rehired, but only with the loss of pension and seniority rights, with no pay raise for one year and with probationary status for two years.

Despite the penalties, the Detroit Federation of Teachers voted 2,109-387 to strike if the Board of Education does not back down in its refusal to hold a collective bargaining election. It set April 15 as the strike date.

The union presented the board with petitions last May requesting the election. Nearly 7,000 teachers had signed.

The strike vote was deplored by the rival Detroit Education Association, which challenges the federation's claim that its membership represents a majority of the Detroit teachers.

The Board of Education has a plan it says may solve the dispute. Under the proposal, teachers would be represented jointly by delegates from the two organizations on an 11-member bargaining panel to be called the Teachers Representative Committee.

In case of a deadlock, a conference committee would be appointed. If that failed, a special mediation committee would take over.

Cottrell Working

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County said Saturday he has 52 pledges of support to make him speaker of the Arkansas House. Cottrell said he would seek the post after Grant County Rep. W. R. Stephens, the speaker, announced he would not seek re-election. Garland County Rep. Ray Smith also said he would seek the speaker's post.

General Had Special Grace Among Men

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

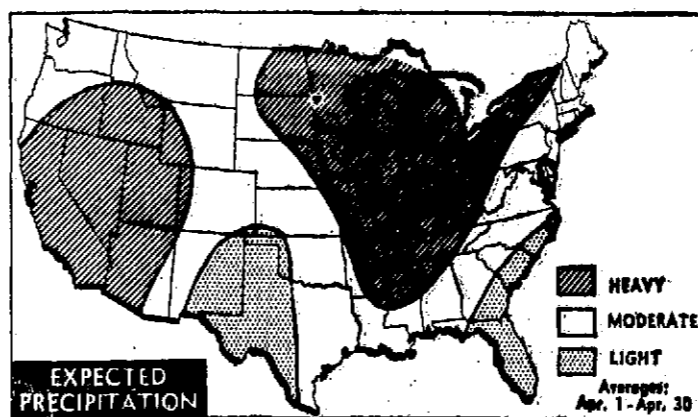

WASHINGTON (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur had brains, character, fabulous courage, grace, and a special quality which some men have had from antiquity. Anthropologists call it mana.

It means extraordinary magnetism and power to impress. Mixed with it was egoism. And this produced his personal disaster when he let the egoism collide with his judgment in disobeying the President.

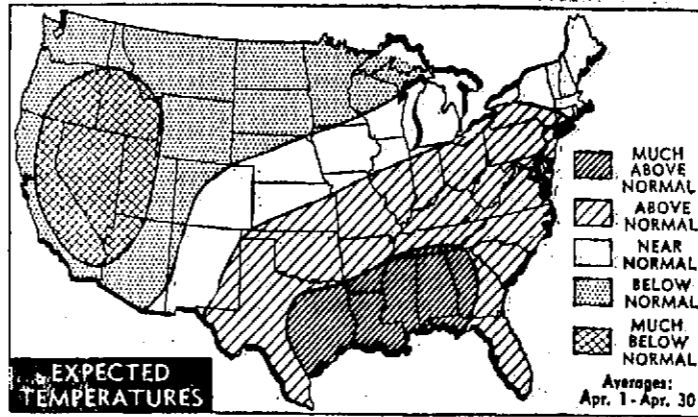

It was a humiliating end to one of the most glamorous military records in American history, 52 years of service, longer than the combined military service of George Washington, Ulysses S. Grant and Andrew Jackson.

His battles in three wars were like a catalogue of encounters from the Iliad: The Marne, Meuse-Argonne, St. Mihiel, Sedan; Bataan, Corregidor, New Guinea, Leyte, Lingayen Gulf, Borneo, Luzon; Pusan, Inchon, Yalu River.

If he wore his decorations, which ranged down from the Medal of Honor, he would have been as resplendent as Achilles' shield. But he didn't wear them.

It's just another April, as far as precipitation goes. But it brings May flowers.

Western United States is expected to have cool weather; it'll be warmer in the East.

This, one writer said, was part of his ostentation.

John Gunther, impressed by the "immense force of his character," quotes an officer as saying MacArthur was the only man in the world "who could walk into a room full of drunks and all would be sober in five minutes."

MacArthur was dramatic, arrogant, his critics said—and in his years of heading the occupation forces in Japan he stood as aloof as a mikado. But he had a glistering sense of history, including his own, and no wonder.

He traced his ancestry back to Scotland's clan MacArthur which, he said in Life magazine, finds a place in the "heroic lore of King Arthur and his knights of the round table."

One entranced biographer even made him an eighth cousin of Sir Winston Churchill, a sixth cousin of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and a descendant of Charlemagne.

King Arthur of the myth slew monsters with names like Twrch Trwyth. MacArthur's monsters were Russians, Red Chinese, and those in Washington he thought were conspiring to frustrate and undercut him.

The clan MacArthur and its pride came down through his father, Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, who in the Civil War at Missionary Ridge won the Medal of Honor and became colonel of his regiment by the time he was 20.

So from childhood soldiers were respectful to Douglas MacArthur, son of a general. Remembering this, one admiring officer who served under MacArthur in the Pacific in World War II said:

"If MacArthur never had the common touch, it's because he was never a common man himself. He was being called 'sir' from the time he was 3."

He became a symbol, the phoenix of the American spirit rising from the ashes of calamity when the Japanese drove him out of the Philippines and he said "I shall return," and did.

He was 70 when the Korean war began June 25, 1950. Victory would have been the soaring finish to the military symphony of his life. But the music soured, victory eluded him, and in seeking it he made mistakes of judgment.

First, he had an optimistic

Non-Farm Jobs Up in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U.S. Department of Labor said Monday that non-farm employment in Arkansas continued to rise during February.

The department's monthly report shows that non-farm employment reached 416,500 during February, up 2,500 from January, and up 19,700 from February 1963.

The average weekly wage went from $67.20 in January to $71.51 in February.

Heart Stopped 90 Minutes, Still Alive

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Benjamin Burch, 48-year-old machinist whose heart stopped beating for 90 minutes on the operating table last month, left the hospital Tuesday.

"I've been rushing around all my life," said Burch, "I guess I've got to make up my mind to just take it easy."

When Burch's heart stopped, circulation was maintained artificially. A device called a defibrillator was used to shock his heart into action again.

misunderstanding of the enemy, perhaps because he wished so hard to win.

He thought all he had to do was whip the North Koreans, that the war would be over by Christmas, that the Chinese would not come in. He was wrong on all counts.

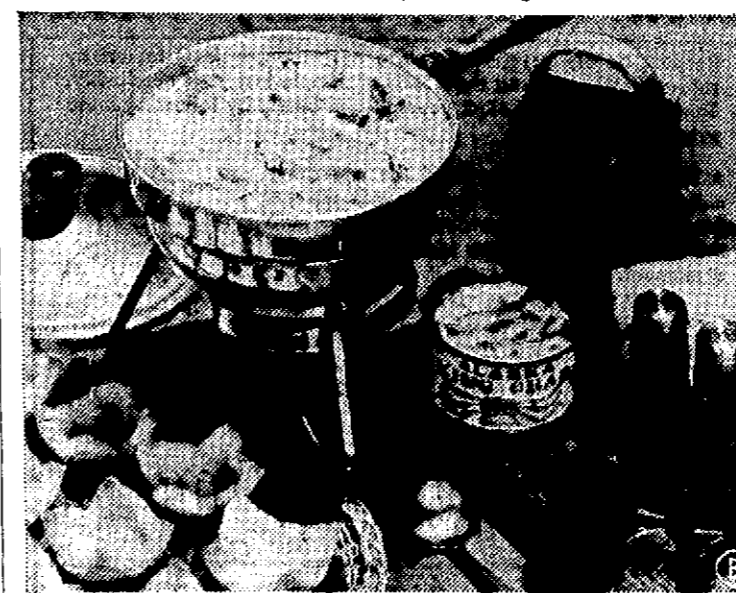

Then his egoism overcame him. He pitted himself against President Harry S. Truman who had ordered him not to assert publicly his ideas on how to win the war. MacArthur didn't listen, didn't obey.

His ideas differed from Truman's. He wanted, among other things, to bomb the Chinese bases in Manchuria. Truman and his advisers feared this might mean World War III, with the Soviet Union coming in on China's side.

Truman considered MacArthur insubordinate and his statements injurious to the conduct of the war and relations with allies. Thus it became a contest between a general and his commander-in-chief, the president.

MacArthur lost, was fired. This time there was no return. Even in the legend the phoenix came out of the ashes only once.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Commercial television is often accused of playing a "numbers game" with its reliance on ratings when it comes to keeping or killing shows. It seems that a large segment of the viewing audience quietly plays a little numbers game of its own.

This is a game the major networks and the independent stations alike deplore. In spite of all the promotion designed to establish a station or network identity—the CBS eye, the NBC peacock, the call letters flashed on the screens at every station-break time—a large percentage of the audience persists in identifying a station merely by its channel number on the dial.

A television chain recently confirmed this through an audience research project. Almost any viewer could have predicted the outcome of the study.

This is distressing to the industry for several reasons. Individual stations and networks work hard to establish attractive images in the minds of viewers. One New York station always announces its call letters and adds "your community-minded station." Others are "station of the stars." "The news-minded station" and so on. The networks are particularly eager to create vivid and pleasing identities. A viewer who isn't exactly sure where his favorite show can be seen is likely to sample shows on all working channels in his hunt for it. Sometimes he likes what he samples—and never reaches the program he set out to find.

The series about psychiatry—NBC's "11th Hour" and ABC's "Breaking Point"—failed to carry the kind of impact that made "Dr. Kildare" and "Ben Casey" big hits, so both will disappear at this season's end.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I have lived alone for a year and I have not liked it. So I thought I should have a companion for my sunset years."

Lauritz Melchior was talking at his mountaintop chalet about his marriage May 23 to Nary Markham, 40-year-old television producer who was once his secretary. A pretty, personable blonde, she was at his side beaming at her future husband, once again helping answer his mail.

Melchior at 74 seems a long way from sunset. His girth is still Wagnerian — both he and his future bride agree he'll be dieting—and his rich tenor can still ring to the rafters.

Further evidence of his youthfulness was offered by Miss Markham with mock complaint: "We'll have a week's honeymoon in Hawaii and then he's going to leave to hunt ice bear in Norway and Greenland."

Melchior added: "After hunting ice bear, I look forward to coming back to a warm home." He is now involved in plans to refurbish his Mulholland Drive home, a showplace which features his hunting trophies, so it will fit his new family. His bride-to-be has a 3-year-old son

Tea For A Crowd

By BETTY BARCLAY

WHEN you want to serve tea to a large number of people, the easiest way is to make a strong tea concentrate ahead of time. Strain it into a teapot and keep until ready to use. Then bring out a pot of piping hot water; pour a little concentrate into each cup; fill up with hot water. By varying the amount of concentrate, you can vary the strength of the tea. Replenish the hot water from time to time to make sure the tea is always piping hot.

Tea Concentrate

Bring 1½ quarts freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and immediately add ¼ pound loose tea. Stir to immerse leaves. Cover. Let stand 5 minutes. Strain into teapot. Makes enough concentrate for 40-45 cups. Double recipe for 85-90 cups.

All About Dogo

Bark Worse Than Bite

All puppies like to rough-house. However, puppies soon bite too hard and their teeth are very sharp. They also tend to become over-excited and angry.

C. C. "Tex" Fawcett, Director of the Purina Dog Care Division, says that to prevent puppy from biting too hard, play with him until he becomes angry.

When his bite starts to get to you, tap him across the nose with your finger and scold him, saying, "No bite!" several times. He must learn not to go too far in play, and that he can never bite or growl at a human being. You'll be amazed at how quickly he'll learn this if you arrange behavior lessons so that he gets one or two each day.

Caution: Don't overdo any lesson—15 minutes is enough.

Family Has Third Set of Twins

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The third set of twins for the James Strehlo family since early 1961 arrived Tuesday at University of Minnesota Hospital.

The two boys, 6 pounds, 4 ounces, and 5 pounds 10 ounces, bring the family to a total of eight children, all under 6. Strehlo, caretaker of a cemetery in Mankato, Minn., said he and his wife, 32, had been hoping for girls, "but we don't really care as long as they're healthy."

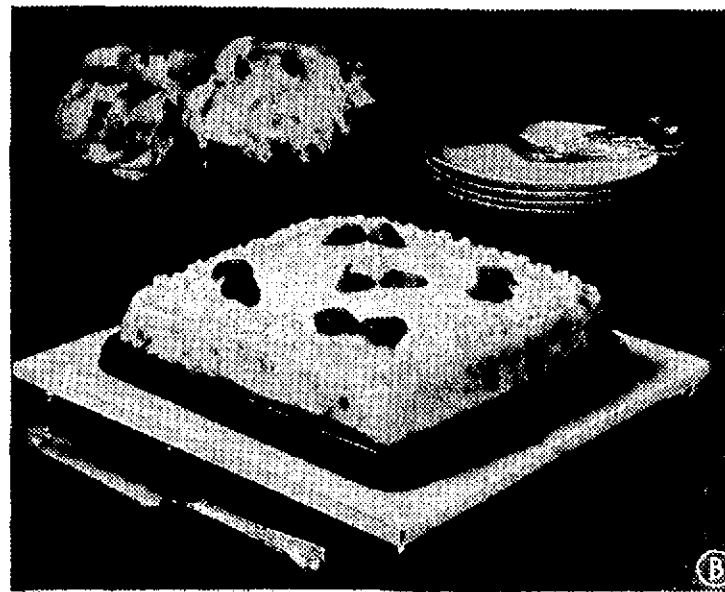

The other twins are Angela and Paul born Jan. 4, 1961, and Daniel and Douglas, born Jan. 8, 1962. Other children in the family are Helen, 5, and Michael, 4.

by a previous marriage, also named Lauritz.

"The boy and I get along fine," said Melchior, himself a grandfather, "but then, I have always liked children."

Melchior's singing activity has slowed down in recent years and he has earned his rest. He began singing opera in 1913 and his work load has matched the size of his voice and build. At the Metropolitan Opera House alone he performed 512 times, missing only three engagements.

SOUFFLE SALAD FOR BUFFET LUNCH

By Jane Ashley

This season will undoubtedly find you planning lunch for your church or club group or a shower for a prospective bride. A salad that is perfect for the luncheon plate is the congealed soufflé salad made with real mayonnaise. It is easily prepared the night before the luncheon and looks especially pretty for buffet service with each guest helping herself, first to the crisp iceberg lettuce, then to the salad. Add sandwiches made with tiny rolls, a beverage and simple dessert.

Soufflé Salad

- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 (3-ounce) packages lemon flavored gelatin
- 1 cup cold water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup Hellmann's/Best Foods real mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ½ cup chopped pecans
- ½ cup chopped dates
- Iceberg lettuce
- Real mayonnaise
- Strawberries, for garnish

Pour boiling water over gelatin in bowl; stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Add cold water, lemon juice, mayonnaise and salt. Blend with rotary beater. Pour into freezing tray or metal loaf pan. Chill in freezing unit until firm about 1-inch from edge of pan but still soft in center, about 20 to 25 minutes. Turn chilled mixture into bowl and whip with rotary beater until fluffy and thick. Fold in celery, pecans and dates. Pour into 9 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Chill in refrigerator (not freezing unit) until firm, about 1 hour. Unmold. Place on large serving dish. Spread thin layer of mayonnaise over top and pipe mayonnaise rosettes around top edge. Garnish with strawberries, cut in half, other fresh fruits, or canned or frozen fruits, well drained. Serve on crisp iceberg lettuce. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

U.S. Presses for More Aid in Far East

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is determinedly pressing its divided European allies to provide more backing and support for its fight against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia and Latin America.

The diplomatic strategy being followed by the Johnson administration on this and other disputed issues within the alliance is to bypass countries like France or Britain on questions where major disagreements exist and to form a united front with all the countries which are willing to cooperate.

These points of U.S. policy and strategy toward the North Atlantic Treaty Organization emerged clearly from a speech delivered to the Overseas Press Club in New York Tuesday night by Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Rusk also sharply reminded the European allies who have tended to pull apart among themselves and from the United States as cold war tensions eased, that "massive Soviet ground and nuclear forces are still arrayed against Europe."

The Soviet Union, in fact, has "many more missiles" aimed at Western Europe than at the United States, he said. In these circumstances, he declared, "it would be foolhardy to dismantle the military strength of NATO."

Rusk did not give missile figures but a highly authoritative estimate puts the total of Soviet intermediate and medium-range ballistic missiles at 800, most of all of which are believed to be targeted on European objectives.

Against the United States the Russians have an estimated 100-plus intercontinental missiles, and up to 100 submarine missiles. The United States has about 670 ICBMs in place and 192 submarine Polaris.

Rusk said that on the military side NATO should increase its non-nuclear capacity for fighting limited wars. That is a frequently stated U.S. objective which the European allies usually ignore. Europe should also join in forming a strategic nuclear force, he said.

He reported the U.S. government and some other allies have in fact made "substantial and encouraging progress" in working out the problems involved in forming a seaborne fleet of 200 Polaris missiles. France has rejected this whole project and the British government is cooperating reluctantly. However, Britain is working with the other interested allies in a test-ship project.

What is needed beyond shoring up the military defenses, Rusk said, are "new patterns of collective action," especially for dealing with Communist expansion campaigns in Asia, Latin America and Africa.

"I have in mind," he said, "especially such countries as Laos and South Viet Nam, which are targets of aggression by Hanoi, with the support of the Chinese Communists, and Cuba, which is engaged in the

Americans Salting Away More Money

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans are salting away a record amount in various types of savings. They are seeing the market value of some forms of their past savings increase markedly.

But personal debts also are soaring. Yet their total savings after subtraction of the record debts is riding around the trillion-dollar mark.

Much of this thousand billion dollars of savings, however, is not liquid—that is, it isn't export of arms, subversive agents, and guerrilla leaders to other Latin-American nations. We believe that the North Atlantic nations should recognize a common interest in seeing that these aggressions are brought to an end."

readily available to pay debts or meet emergencies.

Personal debts are rising at a faster rate now than are liquid savings. This causes some fretting about what might happen if the anticipated business boom proved to be short-lived. Would falling personal income make some debt loads unbearable?

Installment debt jumped in February by the greatest amount in more than four years. Many consumers are supposed to have reasoned they could take on monthly payments because of the forecasted windfall of the cut in their federal income taxes. The rise in take home pay didn't show up until March. And this may have encouraged still others to increase their installment debt.

On-the-cuff credit rose by $579 million in February to a total of $55.5 billion. This was $5.7 billion higher than February 1963. The noninstallment type of credit—single-payment loans, charge accounts, service credit—rose by $146 million to $15.2 billion. So the total of all fork reservoirs.

forms of consumer debt outstanding came to $68.8 billion.

Finance companies point out that defaults on monthly payments hold at the same relatively small percentage figure. From this they argue that rising personal incomes make Americans able to take on more debt comfortably.

Mortgage debt is the largest item of all, and it has been moving up fairly steadily for years, in good times or bad. The total is now over $175 billion. Some regions have reported increasing defaults and foreclosures. But lenders say the over-all tone is still good.

Stock market credit also has been rising, up about $2 billion in 1963. If the return of the public to the stock market picks up any speed, this form of debt also should rise more this year.

MacArthur Romantic But Tough

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur was not a simple man. He was romantic, but tough; eloquent, but sentimental; charming, but austere; but suspicious.

He felt some people, besides Communists, were his enemies conspiring against him. Because he so often wished his views to prevail, he was some times hard to get along with.

One writer, Richard Rovere, said MacArthur was a "true believer in himself" and found it "necessary to ascribe his disappointments . . . to base intrigues."

Although Gen. John J. Pershing, MacArthur's top commander in World War I, decorated him, the New York Times says Pershing told him: "Young man, I do not like your attitude."

Arthur Schlesinger Jr., in his history of the New Deal, says President Franklin D. Roosevelt thought MacArthur dangerous. If so, he nevertheless made him his chief of staff, commander in the Pacific, and gave him the Medal of Honor.

The Washington Post's military editor, John G. Norris, reports that when Maj. Dwight D. Eisenhower served under MacArthur in the Philippines in 1935 they had differences of opinion and Eisenhower returned home.

President Harry S. Truman dismissed MacArthur from his Korean command in 1951 for what he considered insubordination by publicly airing his views on how to win the war, contrary to Truman's orders and policies. The final straw was when MacArthur wrote to a congressman.

But Norris points out MacArthur fought general headquarters when he was a hero of World War I in Europe. When Pershing crossed him, Norris says, word "was gotten back to interested congressmen and Gen. Pershing's plans were killed."

When the second volume of Truman's memoirs appeared in 1956, explaining why he fired MacArthur, the general said the former president "did violence to the truth" and was "vengeful."

But MacArthur saw intrigue in his dismissal. He said it happened after he had demanded prosecution of a spy ring which was getting top secret military plans sent to Washington from his Korean command.

He said he thought Gen. George C. Marshall, then secretary of defense, and Gen. Omar Bradley, then chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, were "personally hostile to me" and that the enmity went back some time.

Yet, Truman's record of his conversations with MacArthur at Wake Island six months before his dismissal quotes the

Political Battle Lines in Brazil

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — Political battle lines are being drawn for the convening of Congress this week to elect an interim president to serve the remaining 20 months of deposed President Joao Goulart's term.

The shape of the interim government is certain to influence the 1965 presidential race.

Some leaders of last week's coup met in Rio de Janeiro Saturday and agreed to support Gen. Humberto Castelo Branco, army chief of staff, for the interim presidency.

There are no indications who the Social Democrats, largest bloc in Congress, will support for the interim presidency to succeed Provisional President Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli, who took over last Thursday.

Dedication Talk

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus will speak at the dedication Thursday of a new dormitory at Fargo Training School for Girls near here. He will place a plaque honoring the late state Sen. Tom Allen of Brinkley in the new facility, which will house 24 girls and a house mother.

general as saying: "No commander in the history of war ever had more complete and adequate support from all agencies in Washington than I have."

But it was Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's aide and confidant for more than 20 years, who did the biggest job of rounding up the various intrigues supposedly working against the general.

Whitney, who was with MacArthur when he died last Sunday, put together a 547-page justification of what MacArthur did or didn't do in a book called: "MacArthur: His Rendezvous With History."

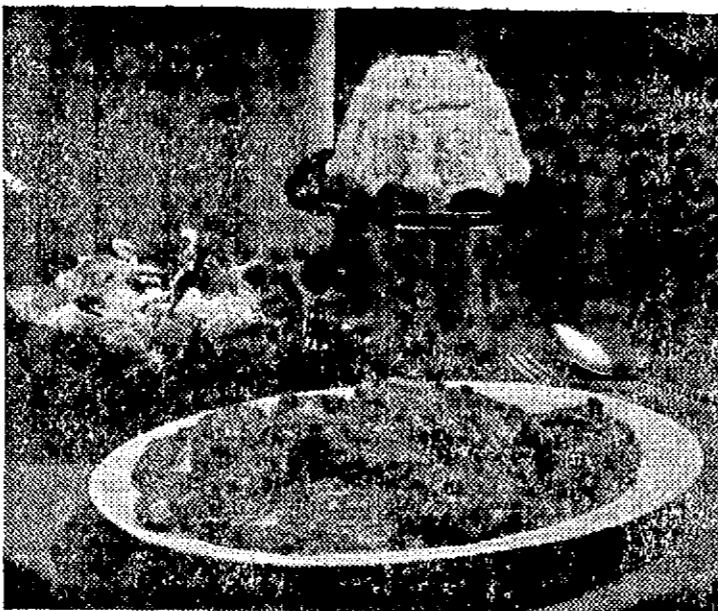

He said "Communists and their dupes" found "an ally in the 'Europe-first' clique in the War and State Departments at the outbreak of World War II" in an attempt to discredit the general "in every way and thwart his efforts against the enemy."

In 1932 MacArthur was widely criticized for leading — in full uniform and on a white horse — regular troops and tanks ordered by President Herbert Hoover to oust the "bonus army" veterans of World War I who had holed up in shacks on the outskirts of Washington.

Whitney's explanation: The veterans were infiltrated with Communists who wanted to create mob violence against the government. He writes of a "captured secret document in which the Communists planned to hang high government officials," with MacArthur heading the list.

MacArthur, when the storm broke over him, said the "mob was a bad-looking mob. It was animated by the essence of revolution."

Conspiracy Laid to 8 Steel Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight steel companies—including U.S. Steel, the industry's largest—have been indicted by a federal grand jury on antitrust charges.

They are accused of conspiring to fix prices in the $3.6 billion carbon sheet steel business.

Two steel company executives also were named in the indictment, made public Tuesday.

The indictment traces to the clash between major steel companies and the late President John F. Kennedy in April 1962. When the companies posted an across-the-board increase of $8 a ton, Kennedy angrily denounced the move as inflationary and the companies rescinded the increase.

After the clash, the Justice Department—headed then and now by the late president's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—started a grand jury investigation of the steel industry's pricing methods. The original grand jury investigation died out. But the job was taken over last October by a new grand jury—the one that reported the indictment Tuesday.

Inland and Kaiser—only major steel firms that opposed the 1962 price hike—were not named in the indictment. The grand jury, however, had subpoenaed their records.

Conviction could bring the eight defendant firms fines up to $50,000 each. The two indicted executives, if convicted, could be sentenced to jail for one year and fined $50,000 each.

Sheet steel—the product covered in the indictment—is used in making about one-third of all finished steel mill products. The alleged price-fixing, the government charges, increased prices to consumers for such items as auto bodies, washing machines, kitchen cabinets, refrigerators, office furniture and other widely used products.

A spokesman for one of the firms — Armco — said: "Apparently, these allegations arise out of efforts to promote the use of steel in traditional markets for steel and to combat the inroads made by competitive materials such as aluminum, glass, plastics, cement and others."

China Accused of Violation

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union accused Red China today of systematically violating the Soviet-Chinese border.

A statement issued by the government news agency Tass said:

"The Chinese side has for some time continuously and systematically been violating the Soviet-Chinese border, often in a crude and provocative form."

The Russians thus once more brought into the open one of the great Soviet-Chinese problems — the long border from central Asia to Korea. Some portions of the border were fixed after czarist conquests and never accepted by the Chinese.

The Tass statement declared that the border was created "historically." But Tass said certain, unspecified adjustments could be discussed.

Beckwith Likely to Take Stand

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Byron De La Beckwith's lawyers hint he may testify at his second trial on charges he murdered Negro civil rights leader Medgar W. Evers.

With seven jurors still to be chosen as the trial's third day began today, prospective jurors were asked by the defense if they would give the same credence to Beckwith's testimony as that of other witnesses.

Beckwith's unexpected appearance on the witness stand climaxed the defense case at his first trial. That trial ended Feb. 7 with a deadlocked jury.

The state contends the 43-year-old fertilizer salesman from Greenwood, Miss., shot Evers from ambush last June 12. Evers had been state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for nine years.

Settlement of Anti-Trust Suits

HOUSTON (AP) — An out-of-court settlement for anti-trust suits filed by four southwestern power companies against three electrical equipment manufacturers has been agreed upon, subject to court approval.

The power companies Tuesday agreed to accept $2,263,867. General Electric would pay $1,562,112, Westinghouse Electric Corp. $601,755 and McGraw-Edison Co. $100,000.

Suits filed in January 1962 charged manufacturers with price fixing, bid rigging and conspiracy. Plaintiffs are Central Power & Light Co., Corpus Christi, Tex.; Southwestern Electric Power Co., Shreveport, La.; Public Service Co. of Oklahoma; and West Texas Utilities Co., Abilene, Tex.

Richard L. Arnold, Texarkana attorney for the power companies, termed the settlements "price adjustments."

A. C. Raisig, senior operations engineer for Atlantic, demonstrated the benefits of "unitized

Johnson Is Very Irked With Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is shaking his head in perturbation at the press and one result may be the drawing of a definite line between business and social events involving newsmen.

The President was disturbed by reports in print that, with beer at hand, he sped along Texas roads, passing on a hill and forcing an oncoming car onto the shoulder of the road during his Easter vacation at his Texas ranch.

He showed some of his feelings Tuesday night in a mild remark to hundreds of members of the National Press Club at a reception honoring White House press secretary George Reedy.

Johnson popped in and dropped a remark that "It's rather difficult for me to believe that folks who can be as difficult as you folks are in the day time."

How he was going to finish was obvious, but a roar of laughter left the sentence in midair.

The basis of the presidential displeasure, or wrath or fury if it goes that far, was the fact that White House newsmen were invited to the LBJ Ranch on a Saturday afternoon for beer, soft drinks or coffee.

Johnson quickly turned the affair into a news conference even before some people had a chance at the beer, then staged another tour of the ranch by car, with Mrs. Johnson at the wheel of one Lincoln Continental and himself at another.

Most reporters left the ranch for press headquarters in Austin, Tex., after the tour but several were invited to remain. And it was with some of these that Johnson was reported to have been burning up the highway.

None of those in the car with him has written a story about the drive, although others reported that Johnson was hitting perhaps 80 or 90 miles an hour the next day after church on a highway with a posted speed limit of 70.

The President said subsequently that he was unaware of ever having driven over 70.

Time and Newsweek magazines came out this week with stories about speeding and some of the remarks reportedly passed between Johnson and some of his guests. Time mentioned beer drinking.

These had to be second-hand rather than eyewitness accounts.

They did not escape White House attention, but Reedy stood fast on statements that they involved events of which he had no personal knowledge or observation.

In any event, Johnson apparently thought reporters had stepped beyond the proprieties that should be observed by presidential guests.

A PEACEFUL USE OF NUCLEAR POWER—Residents of 14 areas in the United States are now using power created by nuclear methods. Twelve more nuclear power reactors—to serve 12 additional areas—will be operational by 1970, according to the Atomic Energy Commission. Today, the nuclear reactors have a capacity of more than 1 million kilowatts; by 1970, about 4 million additional kilowatts will be available. In the newspaper above, locations of the plants in operation and the proposed plants are pinpointed. The United States recently announced it will permit international inspection of the Yankee reactor at Rowe, Mass., and challenged the Soviet Union to reciprocate. Russia called it a western scheme to get a close-up look at its nuclear plants.

THE WEEPING WIDOW MINE

By Nelson C. Nye

XXXIV

He dived for the store, coming out on the run with several boxes of cartridges and three of Mr. Henry's .44-40 repeaters taking the same black powder loads as most of the hand guns generally in use, and which he passed to his packers along with instructions to water the stock.

The livery was bare of everything but feed and harness. He ran limping around through a few more yards and was about to give up when, from off among a clutter of tumble-down sheds, a faint but plaintive nicker brought him up with an old, nearly toothless mare. Any other time he would not have looked twice at her, but he was not right then in any mind to be choosy.

Dragging her back to the livery, anxiously scanning that pall of black smoke, he flung an ear-stall over her roman-nosed head and, about to grab up a saddle, instead heaved a sack of oats up across her withers, and climbed aboard with a heartfelt sigh. She might not be much but she sure beat walking.

In less than 10 minutes they were at the river, pushing through cottonwoods and spraggy willows and on across its rock and sand-choked bottom, bone dry for weeks by the look of it.

The terrain had considerably changed. They were now in a region of dwarf mesquite which, practically useless as cover, was becoming increasingly hard to get through. And the ground itself, was more ruggedly rising, cut up and gouged by barrancas and cutbanks channeled through the centuries by storm-water runoffs. And it was while they were cursing their way through this that the girl, leading Begetta, discovered horsemen barreling up on their flank.

Charlie's first thought, when she cried out, was Apaches, and he whirled to peer south across a prickling shoulder. "The other way!" Belita called.

He saw them then, perhaps five miles off but coming up at a tangent and moving at the speed of a wind-pushed cloud shadow. There looked to be about a dozen in the bunch.

It seemed not unreasonable to assume—since they were coming from the general direction of Tucson—that this was the go-gettem outfit intrusted to Burks.

Kicking the mare into some semblance of a run, pushing past the frightened scowls of his Papagos, he grumbled at Belita. "We're gonna have to run fer it!" and put the mare, on her haunches, down a slope of sliding shale.

He was going to have to trust the girl to keep the animals bunched and moving. This arroyo he'd dropped into was cluttered with brush and boulders that would slow them further and would fetch them to the base of those towering cliffs a good ways off from the spot he had chosen, but at least it would keep them hidden from Burks.

The arroyo petered out a hundred yards from the cliffs that looked, when he came out of it, to be not only unbroken but too sheer even for a goat to find a foot hold. In this exposed position he twisted around to look for Burks and his hardcases, churning up quite a splatter of electrifying hope when they were not at once apparent. But this relief was short lived; they were out there, all right. They came surging abruptly from a gully scarce a rifle-shot away, and the whistling of a ricochet screaming Charlie's name as it tore off past his elbow amply described the pitch of their temper.

From the corners of his stare he got an impression of more mules bounding white-eyed past in snorting flight toward the cliffs.

"Keep 'em goin'!" he yelled at the girl's frightened face, and brought the buffalo gun to his shoulder, feeling the recoil in every muscle of his body.

Wirtz Ordered Into Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson directed Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to set up a labor-management conference tonight in an effort to avert a threatened nationwide rail strike.

Wirtz, after a midday White House meeting with Johnson, called a conference for 8 p.m.

George Reedy, White House press secretary, announced the decision. He said he did not know whether the evening session would take place at the White House or at the Labor Department.

Immunization Survey

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP) — A survey has been made of 240 families in Grant County to determine the level of immunization against communicable diseases in pre-school-aged children. The survey was sponsored by the state Board of Health and Grant County health and medical officials. Results will be released in a few days, officials said. Similar surveys are scheduled in other counties.

Candidate Files

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Roger Mears, 38, filed Tuesday as a candidate for state representative from Pulaski County. He is the third candidate for the post being vacated by Rep. ## Sonicboom Cracks Windows in State

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — An Air Force jet bomber from Oklahoma City produced a shattering sonicboom over Northwest Arkansas today.

Windows were broken in Fayetteville and Springdale and buildings rocked at Berryville. Berryville residents thought it was an earth tremor.

No serious damage was reported. A plate glass window was broken on the Fayetteville square and three windows were knocked out of Brough Commons dining hall at the University of Arkansas.

The Federal Aviation Agency station at Fayetteville said the plane was from Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City.

Mother of Year Stuttgart Women

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Cora Baker Essex of Stuttgart received a certificate today designating her as Arkansas' mother of the year.

Clarence Thornbrough, executive secretary to Gov. Orval E. Faubus, presented the certificate in the governor's office.

Thornbrough also gave certificates to five merit mothers—Mrs. W. K. Andrews of Magnolia, Mrs. Frank W. Letzig Sr. of Little Rock, Mrs. Harry Spooner of Stephens, Mrs. Charles W. Strickland II of Arkadelphia and Mrs. Harlan Kizer of Fort Smith.

Mrs. Essex will represent Arkansas at the national Mothers' contest in New York in May.

"Don't complain to us, complain to them," an FAA spokesman said.

Radio Station KTHS, Berryville, reported its telephones were tied up by callers from throughout the Berryville area who felt buildings shake and thought it was an earth tremor. Most of them heard no boom.
